

Lehigh Valley Ray Shaver Depot

The first official freight train of the Southern Central RR pulled into Newark Valley on March 8, 1870. Passenger service started within one month. Thus began over 100 years of service to the communities on the east branch of the Owego Creek. The original depot burned in 1879, and it was immediately rebuilt. Abandoned by the Lehigh Valley Railroad in 1969, it deteriorated until Ray Shaver began its restoration in 1982.

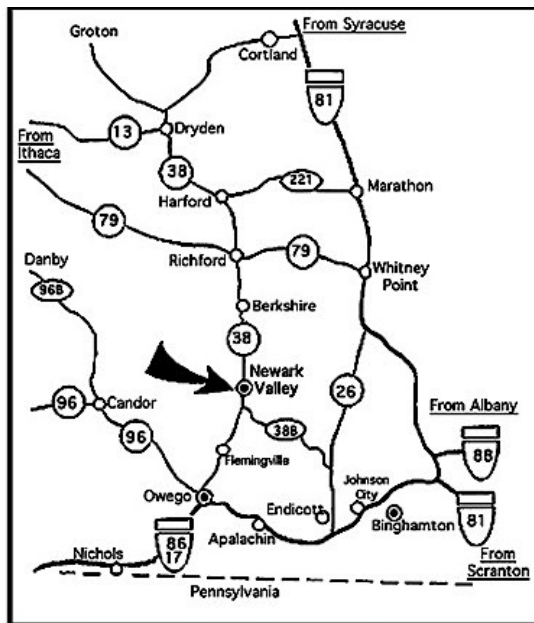

Today the depot has been restored to the 1910 period, and contains a variety of railroad artifacts and memorabilia. The Depot is home to an HO scale railroad depicting the northern Tioga County segment of the Lehigh Valley RR, and a real restored caboose. The waiting room displays are changed from time to time.

Depot Friday Nights have provided entertainment since 2004.
